

BC CSSE

Achievement Recognition Awards Program

RECOGNIZING EXCELLENCE, PROFESSIONALISM AND EXPERTISE IN OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY

The Canadian Society of Safety Engineering (CSSE) is a non-profit organization of safety practitioners. Our objective is to promote the arts and sciences of loss prevention for the conservation of people, equipment, material and the environment, and to encourage the pursuit of excellence in the profession.

Now in its 23rd year, the B.C. Yukon Region of the CSSE has recognized outstanding achievement by both individuals and organizations through the annual Achievement Recognition Awards program. Each year, after nominations are received, an awards committee selects the winners.

BC CSSE Awards – as easy as 1, 2, 3...

1. Choose the Award Category you wish to enter.
2. Nominate yourself, a colleague or company/organization.
3. Send in a completed Nomination Form by the deadline date.

Individual Awards:

Nominations are accepted for individuals who have demonstrated exceptional leadership in the profession which resulted in a significant contribution to the workplace. You may nominate yourself or someone else in one of three categories:

Senior Safety Professional — CSSE member with more than 5 years safety experience

Novice Safety Professional — CSSE member with less than 5 years safety experience

Non-CSSE Safety Professional — safety professional who is not a CSSE member

Organization Awards:

Nominations are accepted for organizations, unions, teams, etc., who have succeeded in making a significant contribution in the workplace. You may nominate your own organization or group, or one that you are familiar with, in one of four categories:

1-50 employees or members

51-500 employees or members

500+ employees or members

Safety Specific Non-Profit Organizations

Special Awards:

Safety Innovation Awards — to recognize organizations, unions, teams, etc., who have succeeded in completing an innovation/special project in relation to health and safety that benefits workers beyond their workplace. These awards are available for the following industries:

Construction Industry — Sponsored by WorkSafeBC

Food Processing Industry — Sponsored by BC's Food Industry Occupational Safety Association (FIOSA)

Manufacturing Industry — Sponsored by B.C.'s Manufacturing Industry Occupational Safety Association (MIOSA)

Mar Sherwood Bursary (for students enrolled in full time studies of OH&S) — this bursary will be given in recognition of academic achievement, participation in the CSSE and the overall need of the student

Outstanding Achievement by a Safety Professional — to recognize an outstanding achievement in the area of development of a safety tool, device or equipment, writing of a safety text, program or training course, or production of a safety video, computer program or similar audio-visual element

Robert Wright Lifetime Achievement — to recognize the lifetime achievements of a CSSE member with 20 years or more experience, based on their participation in CSSE and their overall contribution to the field of safety through participation, contribution and/or mentoring

Special Projects (2 or more people) — to recognize a project that will enhance occupational health & safety beyond the workplace

TruckSafe Excellence Award — to recognize an individual who, by his/her commitment to truck/workplace safety and leadership has made an outstanding contribution to the promotion of workplace safety in the trucking industry. Sponsored by WorkSafeBC

TruckSafe Organizational Excellence Award — to recognize a company, industry or labour organization/association, which by its commitment to truck/workplace safety, vision and leadership has made an outstanding contribution to the promotion of workplace safety in the trucking industry. Sponsored by WorkSafeBC

Young and New Workers — Best Training/Orientation Program — to recognize an organization for their outstanding program tailored to meet the specific needs of young workers (ages 15-24) — sponsored by WorkSafeBC. There are two categories of awards for organizations with:

1-19 employees (small business)
20 or more employees

Young and New Workers — Special Project — to recognize an organization, union, team, etc. — for their innovative project(s) in relation to young and new worker injury prevention. Sponsored by WorkSafeBC

The awards will be presented at the BC CSSE Achievement Recognition Awards and Safety & Health Week Forum and Awards Luncheon held on October 25, 2012. For further information, e-mail naoshawards@worksafebc.com

Nomination forms and further information on the awards is available at the CSSE website: www.csse-lmc.org or contact Kathy Tull at 604 233-4024; e-mail kathy.tull@worksafebc.com

Deadline for nomination is June 30, 2012.

Canadian Society of Safety Engineering — B.C./Yukon Region

Achievement Recognition Awards — 2011 Winners

Individual Awards:

2011 Senior Safety Professional Karen Biddlecombe

2011 Non-CSSE Safety Professional Tammy Marks

Organization Awards:

Organization (1-50 employees) Christopher Isaac Construction

Organization (51-500 employees) Squamish Nation

Organization (500+ employees) Capital Regional District

Special Awards:

Mar Sherwood Bursary Award — BCIT 1st Year Student Nathan Taylor-Reid

Safety Innovation in Manufacturing Wallace & Carey Inc.

Safety Innovation in Food Processing Tinhorn Creek Vineyards

Safety Innovation in Construction Paul Phillips — ITC Construction Group

Young and New Workers — Safety Program Loblaw Companies Limited

Young and New Workers — Safety Project/Innovation

- Wallace & Carey Inc.
- PCL Constructors Westcoast Inc.