

Overview of proposed amendments to

Part 3, Rights and Responsibilities Occupational Health and Safety Programs Section 3.1, When are they required

The proposed amendment clarifies the intent of a March 2004 regulatory amendment, which resulted in an inadvertent exemption of employers who have a large workforce but small number of workers at each worksite from having an occupational health and safety program as required prior to March 30, 2004.