Submission:

Do all crane operators have to go through the Learners phase or can one become fully certified as soon as the testing is available. If all operators must go through the learners stage, this is not only a financial burdent to employers who currently have employees that have been operating the equipment for numerous years; but it is also an insult to the workers who have been operating the machinery who must now go through training for something they are already qualified for.

Also, how do I become a person acceptable to the board for qualifiying my employees to operate my boom truck.
