RE: Reasons against and refuting the world-wide, bogus, irrational anti-tobacco-smoking campaign by the global corporate/state

FACTS: All humans have died throughout history - we are going to die; face it - then?
-After WWII federal/sales taxes totaled 2.4% of income today we are taxed 40-60% = 20x-30x government (maybe 80% as corporate services/maybe 20% to the people) At that rate of escalation we'll be slaves working 100% for the government soon.
-Wages have doubled or tripled in 20 years
-Tobacco inflated 6x in 20 years
-80% of retail tobacco prices are taxes ($4 per $5 pack is taxes
-5 million smokers x $5M tax/day = $25M/day x 365 = $9Bill./year taxes which is 1/5 or 20% of Canada's 45 billion dollar per year medical budget
Q?-What % of medical problems are really CAUSED by tobacco?
(statistics can be so construed as to suggest that all medical problems involving people who smoke can be blamed on tobacco relative to it's 'affiliated' illnesses)

Though smoking may weaken some of our constitutions, if tobacco were THE Main cause of said cancers, etc., and supposed (premature) deaths, then all smokers would die of them - Guaranteed. Such is not the case - implying that there are many other elements involved. There are so many chemicals in the world today that their interaction with each individual biological metabolism can never be tested. The corporations and their governments are not going to get my $2,000/year tobacco budget spent on their products instead ($1 trillion/year worldwide must make their efforts valid - No It Doesn't. Not At All. As if the parent state cares about our health more than what it costs them. They can all go up in smoke. But if the bottom-liners can divert the (masses) culture to attack the tiniest kid on the block - tobacco- for causing so much death and cancer then the other polluters and death-causing agents can clandestinely operate behind the diversion and get away with it - as the rich always do via their corporate/state controlled media and dis-education dis-info systems. (E.G. - we all know that depression Germany was super-inflated and intrinsically broke so who financed hitler via Swiss banks for dividends (like gold-teeth bullion, artworks deals, contracts and monopolies) to destroy the old failed system and rebuild - state of the art- make rules and start the game anew. World wars towards world government? (For one, Henry Ford was knighted by hitler FOR investing $1 billion)

Also, whether you think that GOD Created all natures by His laws of mathematics, geometry, material laws of science and all natures which are true for all and the more the 'engineer' obeys them the higher the quality and longer it lasts - break any weak link and it won't work. (if man is the highest evolved god and can make 2 plus 2 equal anything he wants - that'll work equally well - and corporations and others would love to trade their 2 twonies for your 2 thousands of profits). And also, if there was ever nothing there would always be nothing because you can't get something from nothing or more from less so what's the Eternal supreme being or stuff. Is chance the best way to achieve working goals or The Designer's design by His Laws?

GOD also made the Laws of Morality - the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule - whatever you do unto others shall be done to you by the same measure because you justify and promote it as should be done so like minds should do it to you - only fair. 2 plus 2 = 4 is the right change we're all happy with loving the harmony and peace of GOD'S Law. The more you love it the less you want to lose it - for eg. - Thou shall not covett nor adulter is law-gically best because all sex outside of the one committed marriage ends in hate, loss of investment, kills so-called love and psycho-Law-gically you use her as stepping stone/means to your ends, dump her and throw her away irresponsable of her best improvement forever. Is rock'n'roll the standard of love and peace or does only the soul matter ultimately? Oak from oak, horse from horse, man from man, life from life, truth from truth, spirit from spirit.

Or whether you're a chance mutation of evolution (pass the quantum-leapin' god pills) agreeing that the highest evolved god-men can change everything any way they want it - so all would work any which way (like t.v. teaches) with forced agreement calling anything good, right and true no matter what we think, say or do, and it is - or is it? Our bodies are made of the same earth material and chemicals as the plants from which we get 70% of our medicines - as synthetic of active essential re-balancing ingredients so that when we have physical deficiencies, chemical imbalances or maladies we need to rebalance those we lack - even nutrition. So, as GOD made all efficient nature (since fallen) and plants for our use we're trying to get our tobacco medicine albeit maybe using a primitive method. There are many abuses of any and everything but did GOD make devil plants or how much of His creation do you want to render non-existent?

This is my body - not the governments nor the system of evolution nor the 'highest-evolved's' as i'm not here to serve what's in my jeans or my genes to convey them. Repeat - this is GOD'S and my body. After 30 years of smoking tobacco with minimal negative effects i intend to take 40-60 years, smoking all day, every day, undiluted, first hand, direct smoke to achieve unavoidable death (by another route) via my thousand mini-vacations/month BUT, lest one of our little dears be guaranteed premature death or cancer via the odd whiff of super-diluted second-hand smoke on the other side of a resteraunt one day/week or in any public gathering space, we smokers will enjoy the same result after fifty years of smoking as stated. Though not liking being kicked out into the pneumonia zone for a smoke, we do breath fresher air outside to mix with our smoke which is healthier and it's only fair nct to subject fellow workers to smoke 8 hours every day. Give us a break.

Have you ever seen the brown pancake of industrial/vehicle smog when driving into any city from far outside. We all live at car/street/rush hour level. It's so frustrating it makes me want to shut the garage door and run a tube to my pack of cigarettes and do myself in in half an hour. That lethal - and that stupid. LIARS.

In closing, please stop your/their irrational, deceptive, unfair, bottom-line war against the people and their safer smaller pleasures and go find some real problems to attack. Maybe the odd house burned down because of smoking in bed - while usually drunk - or the odd accident caused by a cigarette falling between a drivers legs but the first bottle of liquer can cause a driver to kill a trainload and overuse has caused millions of divorces broken homes, beatings, failed careers, homeless people and ruined lives, for example. JESUS however, has healed and restored millions from inside. So get your priorities straight. We're just sick of all the terminating evils and injustice and so we and all Judeo-Christian-Muslims hope and work for the lasting, perfect peace the world has never known, that cannot happen until total perfect justice - the once-and-for-all seperation of all good from all evil - is meted out by the One, All-Knowing, Holy, Good True, Eternal Creator GOD by His universal reasonable moral Law instead of every man's being right in his own mind.

As states make rules governing social morality, as collectives, are hitler, stalin, lenin, mao and the ceasars right? Whose standard of truth vs. lies, right vs. wrong, health or mental health, good vs. evil, GOD vs. devils is real? The powers that be just make any up and we just agree. NO. GOD made the Laws of reality and JESUS came to set the captives free so set the people free. Did you know that the DSM IV - the fourth revision of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of the American (and world) Psychiatrick Association Establishment lists over 400 'mental illnesses' one of which is tobacco dependency. The previous DSM III revision, published 8-12 years earlier, listed less than 300 'mental illnesses' including homosexuality which has since been politically normalised and deleted from DSM IV. Political leverage has us all redefined by what serves them - as evolved - and what doesn't as what's not - Eh What? The more taxes by excuses the government can get the more it wastes and warts. Don't raise (even decrease) tobacco taxes (as per Ontario) and let us smoke in public places and stop the world government's irrational anti-tobacco fanaticism and all other types ,too. Thank you

P.S. Who can hit the Kennedys - and GOD knows how many others - and can cover it up while controlling all institutions involved? JFK clutches throat - bends to knees - 3 seconds later heads jolted back to the rear. Power is conspiracy
